

GROW YOUR CAREER.

LIVE THE LIFESTYLE.

An innovative, growing organization with three progressive community hospitals, Halton Healthcare provides quality health services to more than 275,000 Halton residents. We are actively planning for a new hospital in Oakville which is scheduled to open in 2014.

Community Hospital Adult Infectious Diseases Consultant

In this position, which will be vacant in May 2010, the new infectious diseases specialist would be expected to share the inpatient consultation service with another ID/Medical Microbiologist currently on staff. All inpatients are admitted under the care of either family physicians or intensivists. This is a cross-site position, with the majority of work completed at the Oakville site. The opportunity to provide infectious diseases consultations to inmates at the Maplehurst Correctional Facility in Milton is also available through a separate contract with the Ministry of Community Safety and Correctional Services. In addition to clinical responsibilities, this position involves a part-time administrative component that is supported by the hospital. This administrative portion includes supporting the activities of infection prevention and control services, the antibiotic stewardship program, as well as participating on various hospital committees and in physician education. The successful candidate must have a licence to practise in Ontario, and be certified by the RCPSC in infectious diseases.

Inquiries and curriculum vitae submissions should be directed, as appropriate, to the attention of Dr. Neil Rau, Infectious Disease Specialist and Medical Microbiologist, Halton Healthcare Services, 327 Reynolds Street, Oakville, ON L6J 3L7. Fax: 905-338-4146. E-mail: mkahng@haltonhealthcare.on.ca. You may also submit your CV online.

All qualified physicians are invited to participate in the pre-application selection process, however, only candidates felt most appropriate for the position will be selected for interviews. All appointments are subject to Board approval.
